JEWISH SERVICE CORPS

Spend next year working to build a lifetime of leadership skills, an active Jewish community, a powerful professional network, and a more just America.

OUR SERVICE CORPS MEMBERS:

- Build real world expertise with hands-on work experience. Corps Members are placed with Avodah's partner organizations in Chicago, New Orleans, New York and Washington, DC. They contribute to our partners' work on crucial justice issues like immigration, hunger, education, public health, and domestic violence.
- Develop activist chops and Jewish social justice insights. Avodah's trusted, innovative curriculum develops practical skills, examines the causes and effects of domestic poverty, and looks at justice work through a Jewish lens.
- Live and learn in the dynamic Avodah community. Home-cooked meals, late night conversations, and holiday celebrations make living in the bayit (house) memorable and meaningful.
- Access activism, professional development, and Jewish opportunities for life. Hundreds of active, engaged, supportive social justice leaders across the country in the Avodah alumni community help with everything from apartment hunts to job references to holiday meals.

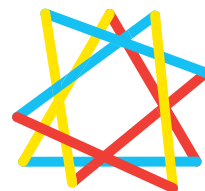

Corps Members are aged 21 - 26, and the program provides a monthly living stipend, travel allowance, health insurance, and subsidized housing, as well as a year of professional and leadership development.
